Community Guidelines:

We use social media as part of our commitment to communicate information to patients, healthcare professionals, advocacy organizations and other stakeholders. Please note that use of or participation on Incyte's social media profiles is subject to our community guidelines.

Please read and keep these simple rules in mind when interacting with us:

1. We want to provide a respectful and welcoming community for all; we ask you to do the same.
2. From time to time, we may share links to third-party sites; however, Incyte does not endorse and is not responsible for content on those websites. Additionally, sharing by Incyte does not imply endorsement.
3. We encourage you to interact with us and others, but Incyte is not responsible for user-generated content.
4. While some content may discuss medical or health topics, it should not be misconstrued as medical advice. Your doctor is the best resource for medical advice and information. Due to the highly-regulated industry we operate in, we cannot engage in discussions regarding medical advice, promotion or discussion about specific products and treatments.
5. The Incyte social channels are not a place to report any medical adverse events or reactions and other product-related information. If your comment does include possible side effects associated with an Incyte product, we may be required to contact you for further information. You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the U.S. FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800- FDA-1088. You may also report side effects to Incyte Medical Information at 1-855-463-3463.
6. We aim to address your comments in a timely manner. However, we will not be able to reply to all posts or comments and sometimes responses may be delayed due to the highly-regulated industry we operate in.

In accordance with the above guidelines, we cannot address comments that contain any of the following. We reserve the right to remove any comments that do not adhere to these guidelines and users who violate these terms may be blocked:

- Content that (is)
    - Profane
    - Defamatory
    - Libelous
    - Offensive
    - Abusive o Discriminatory
    - Demeaning
    - Disparaging
    - Threatening
    - Misleading
    - Fraudulent
    - Inaccurate
    - Deceptive
    - Solicitation or promotion of any service or product
    - Mentions specific products or treatment options
    - Mentions a healthcare professional's name
    - Excessively repetitive
    - Disruptive to the community
    - Leetspeak
    - Spam (such as links, including those to videos/content not owned by Incyte)
    - Contains proprietary, confidential, sensitive or non-public information about, or related to, Incyte or any other person or company
    - Contains personal information about you and/or any connection to Incyte

We will update this list from time to time, so please check back regularly. Your use of our social media properties indicates your acceptance of any revisions to the community guidelines.

While we encourage everyone to participate in active discussion and share content, where appropriate, we cannot be responsible for any views expressed other than our own. Please read at your own risk. We hear you and we see your comments, but we cannot verify the accuracy of statements made by users.

We reserve the right to delete any of our social media platforms and their contents at any time. While these community guidelines cover the most common situations, we cannot anticipate everything. Hence, Incyte may take actions not outlined in these guidelines, as deemed necessary and appropriate.

For complete information on Incyte's policies and terms of use, please click the links below:

Privacy Policy: https://www.incyte.com/pdf/privacy-policy.pdf

Terms of Use: https://www.incyte.com/legal-notice.aspx

Additionally, please note that some social media platforms may have their own guidelines, community standards, user agreements and terms of service that Incyte will adhere to and enforce.

For questions and/or comments about this page, please visit our contact information page to get in touch with us: https://www.incyte.com/contact-us.aspx

If you need to report an adverse event please call 1-855-4-MEDINFO or 1-800-FDA-1088 or visit www.fda.gov/medwatch.

© 2021, Incyte Corporation.